

From the Editor

Dear Readers,

It is with great pleasure that we present the inaugural issue of RESPOLITICA: Journal of Social & Political Studies (Volume 1, Issue 1, June 2026).

RESPOLITICA was established with the aim of providing an international, interdisciplinary, and intellectually rigorous platform for scholarly research in the fields of social sciences, political studies, public policy, and related disciplines. In an era characterized by rapid political, social, economic, and technological transformations, the need for evidence-based, critical, and innovative scholarship has become increasingly significant.

Our journal seeks to contribute to academic debates by publishing original research articles, theoretical analyses, comparative studies, and review essays that advance knowledge and foster constructive dialogue among scholars from diverse perspectives and geographical contexts.

As the first issue of RESPOLITICA, this volume represents the beginning of a long-term commitment to academic excellence, ethical publishing standards, and international visibility. We are deeply grateful to our authors, reviewers, editorial board members, and all contributors whose dedication and expertise have made this publication possible.

We hope that the studies presented in this issue will inspire further research, encourage scholarly engagement, and contribute meaningfully to contemporary discussions in the social and political sciences.

Thank you for joining us on this exciting journey.

Sincerely,

Editor-in-Chief
